Christmas 2008

The Only Present Worth Having

'Mum, I got two A grades and a B in my AS levels.'
'You lazy little ratbag, what a disgrace to the family you are; fancy not working hard enough to get three A grades. You are grounded till Christmas!'

'Dad, I think I would like to work in the Voluntary sector when I leave school or Uni, something like Oxfam or Amnesty.'
'Oh no you won't, this life is about getting ahead. You will get a proper job and make some decent money!'

'Mum and Dad, I have this funny feeling that I would like to be a Priest.' 'What, give up your life and prospects to live in a tied house and be at the beck and call of everyone in the neighbourhood? Not likely. Down to the Graduate Jobfair right now. Let's not hear any more of this nonsense!'

All these are true conversations I have heard this year, and they are by no means uncommon. When they want to serve and spend their lives in worthwhile but not necessarily highly paid professions, why do we treat young people in this dismissive way? After all, God himself did not stay up there in Heaven lounging around. He became a human being in Jesus Christ and lived a life of poverty and service.

Many of us will spend time this Christmas singing Carols and celebrating the wonder of this astonishing truth, what in jargon we call the Incarnation, and yet in practice the last thing we would wish for our nearest and dearest is for them to do anything remotely like it!

At the Pearly Gates, God will not be the least concerned with the successes of this life. The only present he is interested in at Christmas or indeed at any other time is that which lies within us, or as the final verse of the carol 'In the bleak midwinter' puts it:

What can I give him, poor as I am?
If I were a shepherd, I would bring a lamb.
If I were I wise man I would do my part;
Yet what I can I give him, give my heart.

News from All Saints'

Churchyard Autumn Clear-up

The morning of Saturday 1st November was a rare dry few hours and there was a good turn out to help with tidying up. It is always a priority to make sure that the War Memorial area is in good order. Apart from the continuing fall of oak leaves, the Churchyard is in quite good shape for the winter.

Remembrance Sunday

The service in the church was followed as usual by a short ceremony at the War Memorial when a sizeable crowd gathered in the road and brought the traffic to an unwilling halt for a short time. The Chairman of the Parish Council read out the names of Coleshill's fallen, and the two minute silence was observed. After the ceremony, at John Ullman's invitation, the congregation retired to the Red Lion for coffee. Thank you John. Your gesture is much appreciated.

All Saints' Church Flowers

After a summer featuring the cool and elegant creamy lemon theme of Alex Murphy's wedding, this year it was a spectacular Harvest Festival with vivid colours both inside the church and in the porch, with amazing animals and people created by the school children who, encouraged by Catherine Watts, once again put on a fascinating display. This coincided with the 50th Wedding Anniversary of Chris and Mary Wege - to whom many congratulations!

A few of the gorgeous crunchy golden chrysanthemums featured in their special window arrangement even survived long enough to appear again in a display in Aylesbury Civic Centre where Kate Adie was the guest speaker for the Bucks WI two and a half weeks later.

We shall be back to white again for the Patronal service followed by Remembrance when poppies are the theme, of course, and before long it will the Christingle service with a wedding the day before, so we shall be preparing the church on the Friday.

Looking ahead to January, Jane McNeilly has kindly invited us to hold our Bring and Buy Flower Fund Coffee Morning at her house, on Tuesday 13th January 2009, so if by any chance you get any Christmas presents that are not quite your heart's desire - you know where to bring them!

Many thanks to all our very able flower arrangers who give so willingly of their time and talents to keep the flowers in church looking lovely and to everybody who supports us financially and in other ways. We are always delighted to welcome new arrangers to our very friendly team.

Red Lion

I cannot believe that the time has arrived again for me to give details of what is on offer for the festive season. As we enter our 20th year here, the years seem to fly by with increasing speed.

On Christmas Day we will be open for drinks from 11.00 am to 3.00pm, and on Boxing Day until 5.00pm, after the 'Round The Houses' Golf Challenge which will commence from 'Pools Patch' from 10.30 am. Again, for those coming here for New Year's Eve, a free buffet, hot and cold will be provided with a glass of bubbly at midnight. If you intend to come in a big group (more than 6) do let us know, so that we can prepare a table for you. Also there will be some music during the evening.

Our teams are having mixed fortunes so far. The darts teams and crib and dominoes teams are languishing in the bottom half of their respective tables. The former, particularly, are short of players, so any villagers who want to play darts on a Monday or Tuesday evening, do contact us. The quiz teams however have got off to a flying start, with the 'B' team unbeaten at the top of their division.

Quite a few newcomers have visited us this summer, unaware that we do sell eggs, bacon, milk, bread, butter etc if you run short. We are nearly always open from 9.00 am.

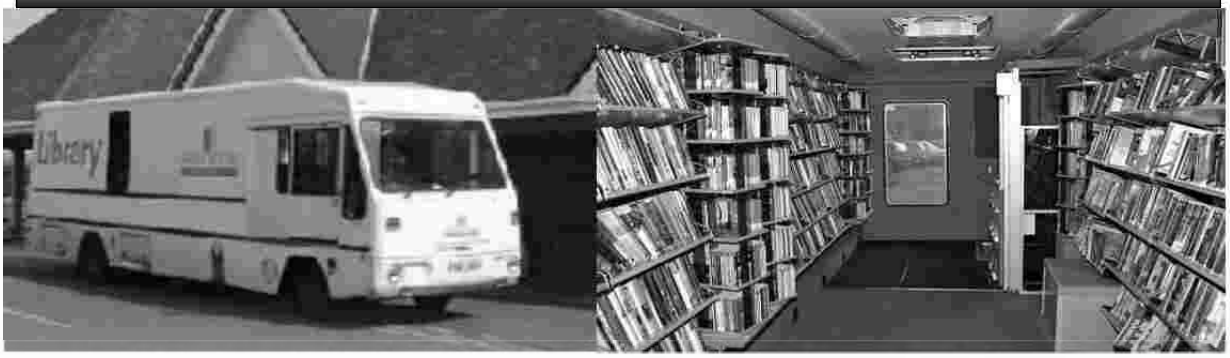

A very happy Christmas to everybody. I am not sure that a prosperous New Year is appropriate at this time, but we do wish all a very healthy one.

Coleshill Mobile Library

The mobile library visits Coleshill every other Friday. It stops beside the pond and is there from 2.20 to 2.35pm. It's only a short window of time but is well worth a visit. It's stocked with a wide range of books, including large print, and has a special children's section with little seats. There are videos, DVDs, talking books and the librarian can even sell you stamps!

Currently it's woefully under-used by villagers – so if we don't use it we shall lose it! Please support this new initiative for the village.

The mobile stops at Coleshill (Village Pond) at 14.20-14.35 on alternate Fridays. The dates are as follows:-
November 28th, December 12th, January 9th & 23rd, February 6th & 20th, March 6th & 20th, April 3rd & 7th, May 1st, 15th, 29th, June 12th & 26th

Village Hall

I have failed to find a Fitness Instructor to use the Village Hall during the weekday partly because I couldn't guarantee enough people to use the class.

There is still a chance of working out in the Hall on Sunday mornings when there is Body Pump from 9 to 10am and Spinning from 10 to 11am. On Monday evenings there is Short Mat Bowls at 7.30pm.

Just turn up at the Hall at the appropriate time and I'm sure you'll be made welcome.

The Hall will have been used by the School, Church and WI for their Christmas festivities and I think our long standing, or should it be sitting, hirer, the Bridge Club enjoys a party amongst themselves as well.

In January the large hall and vestibule will be decorated as we continue to maintain and improve the Hall. So no more Blu tack and sticky tape please!

Parish Council

At the Parish Council meeting on the 13th November it was decided that the precept request to Chiltern District Council for the next financial year should be for £6.500.00p, which is an increase of £1,500.00p on the precept for the last financial year. It is hoped that CDC will agree to this amount as, during the spring of 2009, major dredging work is to be undertaken on the village pond. Before that work can commence, a general clear-up around edge of the pond will be organised. Whilst this tidy-up is a hard morning's work, it is fun! The date will be advertised within the next two weeks, volunteers are always welcome, come along and join the fun.

We welcomed PC Gavin McVeigh, from Thames Valley Police and Chris Schweir from Buckinghamshire County Council to the Parish Council meeting. They came along to answer any questions put to them during the democratic ½ hour. Gavin is the home beat officer for Coleshill and is also one of the co-ordinator's for the local NAG committee, if you have any non-urgent queries or questions, you can use the Thames Valley Police suggestion box which is placed under the CPC notice board. Chris Schweir came along to listen and take back to BCC questions and complaints about road conditions, whether they be the many pot-holes, non gritting of New Road in icy weather or bad drainage causing very large puddles after heavy rain. I will keep you informed of his replies to these points, when I receive them. If you would like to report a pot hole etc to BCC, please telephone 'Highways on Call' on 0845 230 2882 or email hoc@buckscc.gov.uk

If you haven't signed up for the email alerts from the Parish Council please do so by emailing me at susansmith@coleshillvillage.wanadoo.co.uk . The weather warnings are always helpful during the winter months as are the Thames Valley Police warnings concerning criminal activity in the local area.

When the findings from the recent speed assessment strips have been diagnosed I will email them out. It has been noted that just placing the strips across the road made many drivers more aware of the speed they were doing and in general all vehicles slowed down.

The next Parish Council meeting is on Thursday 15th January 2009, starting at 8.00pm; we look forward to seeing you there.

Susan Smith
Clerk to the Parish Council

Colin Lambert Chairman PC

As recently elected to the position of Chairman of Coleshill Parish Council, I thought it would be a good opportunity to introduce myself.

I moved from Harpenden to Coleshill almost 5 years ago, attracted by the location and beauty of the village, with my partner Heather joining me a year ago. Wanting to contribute to the village, I stood for and was elected to the Parish Council in May 2007 and have had joint responsibility for reviewing planning applications.

My personal interests include riding and maintaining Classic Motorcycles, Real Ale – the Red Lion was a key part of moving to the village! DIY and cooking – I've been fortunate to win the Edmund Waller and Red Lion Cups for Cookery at the Coleshill Horticultural Society shows in recent years. Although a Chartered Mechanical Engineer, I've spent the last 20 years as an IT Consultant. The traces of flat vowels indicate my roots, having been born just outside Manchester.

It is my belief that a Councillor's role is to represent the community's views in local issues and the overarching vision for Coleshill is to manage the inevitable change affecting all of us – population growth, social change, legislation etc. to try to ensure that Coleshill maintains it unique charm and beauty, which is what makes it a very desirable place to live in.

The Council meets 6 times a year and over recent years the council has seen a large number of changes in its membership. You would be afforded a warm welcome at any of the meetings which are held in the Village Hall, full details which are held on the Coleshill website (www.coleshill.org.uk).

Council Meetings include a democratic half hour, where you can raise any issues or concerns with the council. If you are planning any building works, feel free to come and talk to the council.

I look forward to seeing you at the council meetings, at village events or around the village.

Colin Lambert

Coleshill W.I.

This week brings Coleshill W.I. members to yet another A.G.M. and the usual arm-twisting to get a committee together! However I am sure we will survive and look forward to another busy year.

Meanwhile let me tell you what has happened in the last few months. Mrs Tomes came in September to give us a History of Lingerie, and had lots of weird, wonderful and beautiful pieces to show us from antique to modern. This evoked lots of memories, and funny stories, giving the members an entertaining afternoon. October brought the Rag Rugs and we learnt there is more than one way to make them and that it can become addictive if you start learning. From the purely functional rag rugs of our childhood the handicraft has reached new heights of decorative wall hangings and National competitions! Autumn brings the meeting of The Chesswoods Group which Coleshill was hosting this time. There was a good turn out and an attentive audience had an educational half-hour learning about Maritime London and viewing some excellent slides contrasting the docks 'then' and 'now'. Captain William Wells looked resplendent in his uniform and we were not surprised to learn that he lectures regularly on the bigger cruise liners and was off to join the Q.E.11 on her last journey home. Of course our December Meeting will be our annual Christmas Lunch.

Kate Adie presenting to the WI County Meeting at Aylesbury Civic Centre, posing behind the flowers arranged by Catherine Green

Yes, you guessed it, we have been on some outings too. A select group went to Wycombe Swan to watch the Ballet Rambert and discussed the style of dance, the music and the artistic impression the whole way home, definitely a stimulating evening! Shortly afterwards a much larger crowd had a marvellous time laughing with the Calendar Girls. It was brilliantly staged

Horticultural Society

We need new ideas for the Annual Village Show. Whilst the show is organised by the Horticultural Society we understand that bad summers are not the best platform for showing fabulous home grown vegetables and flowers. The show has always had categories for handicrafts, flower arranging, baking and photography plus a wonderful children's section. Perhaps you have an idea for another category, jewellery making, poetry, glass painting or woodwork? Let us know what your ideas are and, if you would like to, why not join the committee and help plan the Spring Talk and Annual Show?

If you have any good tips for gardening, caring for house plants and cut flowers, why not pass them on? You can do this by sending your tips to the village website which is www.coleshill.org and they can be posted on the Horticultural Society page.

We look forward to 2009 being a good weather year and for us to have a bumper Village Show.

and most of us thought it portrayed the W.I. more realistically than the film did. It was surprising there were not more men in the audience, they'd have enjoyed the scenes of 'nude' photography!

Now I'm off to our very own Denman College at Marcham, near Oxford for a residential weekend course with lots of other ladies from the Buckinghamshire Federation. It is always good fun and a wonderful chance to escape from the pressures of living in the South East for a short while. Someone else can think about the food, laundry and cleaning while I relax and enjoy myself - a real treat. It has to be one of the best perks that comes with membership of the W.I.

Happy Christmas and a Healthy New Year to all of you reading this from all of us at Coleshill W.I.

Coleshill History Project

The Coleshill History Group resumed their meetings in September with a presentation by Chris Wege on the ponds, wells and pumps to be found around the village. This was topical as a large well had recently been discovered in the middle of Marigold Curling's lawn at The Rosary. There was a review of progress in writing the Parish History to be published in November 2009 and a discussion of how the book should be launched.

At the October meeting, Patsy Wright-Warren went through her draft chapter on the Parish Council. The surviving minutes begin in 1915, but her predecessors as Clerk were very economical in their minute taking. Whilst blocked footpaths received close attention, the building of the council houses, two world wars and the 1955 changing of the parish boundary are hardly mentioned. The Group also looked at the census returns which are to be put on the Coleshill History Project web-site.(www.coleshill-history.org.uk). The full text of the 1891 Census Enumerator's Book was projected on to the screen. Members were intrigued by the place name 'Troy Town' which appeared to be a group of cottages somewhere between the Plough at Winchmore Hill and the Queen's Head on Whielden Lane. This local place-name also appeared on the 1861 Census, where it was applied to about six households. One suggestion was that the name was a corruption of Tregoe, the surname of an 18th century tenant farmer whose house and farm buildings were situated on Whielden Lane, about 100 yards east of the junction with The Hill. There is now a large modern house on the site. A pair of half-timbered cottages dating from the 16th or 17th centuries remain. It appears that all the old cottages on the Coleshill side of the boundary here were called Troy Town in the late 19th century.

The November meeting focused on Bowers Farm. John Chenevix Trench had suggested that this imposing 17th century farmhouse might have been the manor house of the manor of Stockbury – the eastern side of Coleshill. Members looked at the documentation which had been collected on the farm, beginning with the 1662 Hearth Tax when the Allnutt family paid tax on four chimneys. There was an intriguing agreement of 1689 whereby Zachary Allnutt conveyed the farm to his son Francis, on condition that he was allowed to live out his retirement in comfort in certain rooms of the house, with a guaranteed proportion of farm produce. The 1700 Court Roll of the Manor of Stock Place – the west side of the parish - recorded that Zachary Allnutt had died and that Francis Allnutt had been admitted to his land. The property mentioned, however, was merely a small cottage at Coleshill Green with a couple of closes of arable land and Moorey Grove. Perhaps John Chenevix Trench was right and Bowers Farm itself was part of Stockbury manor. Members looked at Francis Alnutt's will of 1736 and also at a 1739 mortgage of Bowers for £1,300. This listed all the land attached to the farm, including several strips in Claremore Field, one of the common arable fields of Coleshill. The mortgage on Bowers Farm was not paid back and the farm was bought by John Crook, a retired perfumer, who lived at Hall Place, near the Church in Beaconsfield, until his death in 1764. By 1828, Bowers Farm was the property of John Parton, the Beaconsfield solicitor, who owned it at the time of the Tithe

Tennis Club

Being the beginning of the winter and in view of the extensive CTC report in the last newsletter there is very little to report.

The final social event for the Club in 2008 was the fundraising event. This year the committee decided to be different and organise a ferret race evening. Yes, this involved the racing of live ferrets along tubes. There was a tote at which you could place a bet on the ferret you hoped would win. Apart from the last race it was an achievement to bet on a ferret which actually came out of it's starting box! It was a brilliant evening even though a large majority of the ferrets chose not to race! We all enjoyed a fish and chip supper – which meant no washing up for those helping in the kitchen. About £800 was raised which will go towards the next project – yet to be decided.

During the summer CTC entered a team in the Bucks Mixed Knock Out Intermediate Competition. Clubs from all over the county enter. There were 16 teams in the Intermediate Cup and Coleshill managed to reach the semi finals only to be beaten by Wraysbury 6 – 2. In the past we have never managed to get past the first round so this was quite an achievement, particularly as we beat Great Missenden along the way. Well done to Madeleine Murray, Karen Lowe, Neville White and Gerry Gajadharsingh.

A final reminder that Sunday Club play continues throughout the winter months from 10.30 am to which all members are welcome.

Neville White and John Davis will be running a junior coaching session on Saturday mornings from 10 – 11 am. Cost £5. Because of the involvement of our younger members at other sports clubs at this time, this session will be aimed at those over the age of 12 years. Younger members will be able to join in if they have a reasonably high standard of tennis. If you are interested please let me know as this session will not be happening every Saturday due to League Matches that take place during the winter months at the Club on Saturdays.

To other villagers who are not members of the Tennis Club, under the Rules and Regulations of the Club you are entitled to use one of the Club courts from 8 am until 12 noon on Wednesdays.

Wishing you all a very Happy Christmas and New Year.

Susie Gajadharsingh
Club Secretary

Coleshill Infants School

The school was oversubscribed again this Autumn and we have 16 new pupils in the Reception class.

At the beginning of term, all the children took part in art week, learning about the life and work of the French artist, Henri Matisse. The children made a large picture of his famous 'Tiger in the storm, Surprised!' painting and linked the theme of stripes to patterns in nature. This is currently on display in our entrance hall. We visited Whipsnade Zoo at the end of September and were blessed with beautiful, sunny weather.

Harvest Festival took place in the school hall in October and was well attended by parents and visitors. We had an excellent display of harvest produce, which was sold after the service. The money raised this year was again sent to the Moorings farm education fund in Zambia to buy equipment and pay fees, enabling local children to attend school.

We have planned many exciting activities for the children this term. The Amersham Band visited us and performed some lively pieces for everyone and the children were able to try out some of the brass instruments. We also invited the Juma Caribbean Steel Band to play for us and lead a workshop, as well as a theatre group to perform, 'The Snow Queen'. As a special Christmas treat, a professional theatre group; 'Bangers and Mash' will entertain the children with the pantomime, 'Jack and the Beanstalk' in December.

Our Christmas Bazaar will take place in the village hall on November 22nd from 11.00 to 1.00 p.m. This year we have school Christmas cards, priced £5.00 per pack and calendars for sale, using the children's artwork, which will be available at the Bazaar or from the school office after that. Thank you to everyone who gave generously to our tombola stalls, as well as supporting us throughout the year.

Our Christmas play this year is a musical by Niki Davies entitled simply 'The Nativity'. We always appreciate an audience for our dress rehearsal, so if you are able to come you will be warmly welcomed on Monday, December 8th at 11.00 a.m.

Our end of term service will take place at 11.00 a.m. on Friday, December 19th at All Saints' Church, which you are also very welcome to attend.

A very happy Christmas from everyone at the school.
